Manning to kick-off United Way campaign

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

The United Way of Hancock County will open its 1991 fund-raising campaign Friday, Sept. 20, 7:30 a.m. with a dutch treat breakfast at the Diamondhead Country Club.

Former New Orleans Saints quarterback Archie Manning will be the featured speaker. Pat Harvill, UW director and special events chairman, reported invitations will be mailed this week and reservations need to be made early because of seating limitations.

Others interested in attending may call Harvill at 467-4242 for further information. The cost of the breakfast is $5.50.

A goal of $140,000 has been set, and campaign chairman Michael Haas Jr. said, "It will take the efforts of many to be able to reach such a milestone."

Last year some $120,000 was pledged, a record in Hancock County for the United Way's 26th campaign. Tim Ryan was the 1990 chairman.

Bay-Waveland school board accepts amended '91 budget

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Bay St. Louis-Waveland school board accepted an amended 1991-1992 school year budget of $7,477,232 Tuesday night.

The amended budget is approximately $124,000 less than the original 1991-1992 budget. The reduction is in response to state funding cuts, according to Superintendent Robert Magee.

Magee told the board the budget was trimmed in the central administration, administrative and school board travel, and the elimination of out-of-town class field trips for a one-year period.

The board accepted the amended budget 5-0 with little discussion.

Port and Harbor plans for increased railroad usage

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Anticipation of increased railroad usage at Hancock County's industrial park prompted Port and Harbor Commission members Monday to approve application for a loan to fund the construction of additional tracks.

"The railroad is doing well," said commission member Nancy Gex. "We are anticipating an increase in the railroad services this coming year and the additional storage track will be needed."

The commission intends to apply for a zero interest, Rural Economic Development (RED) loan, to build 1,800 feet of additional track at an estimated cost of $160,000 at the Port Bienville Industrial Park in Pearlinton.

Commission director Harold "Buz" Olsen said another improvement planned for the railroad was "being worked out with CSX railroad" for the construction of a new interchange for the incoming and outgoing cars.

The commission agreed to release payment of $28,982.51 to Hancock County for repairs completed on Road "E", between Hancock High School and the Hancock County Vo-Tech Center, and the Stennis Air Park Entrance road from Highway 603.

Several months ago, the commission and the board of supervisors agreed to split the work. The board of supervisors was to pay for the base work needed and the commission was to pick up the cost of the asphalt work.

The work was completed last month prior to the opening of the 1991-92 school year.

The board approved the signing of an industrial access road program contract with the state, through which Weber Road in the industrial park would be improved.

Olsen explained Weber Road, which runs along the side of the

Teenager's room catches fire Saturday

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

According to the parents of a 12-year-old Bay St. Louis girl, she accidentally set fire to her bed and room when she used a cigarette lighter as a substitute for a flashlight Saturday afternoon.

"She was looking for a wallet under her bed with a lighter," her father said.

The Bay St. Louis Fire Department was called to the Julia Street home of Wayne and Ruth Nabors at 3:27 p.m. Saturday in response to a "911-emergency" call, reported Bay St. Louis Fire Chief Andrew Lizana.

"Firefighters Pamela San Filippo and Randy Sekinger, along with Lieutenant McCrory contained and extinguished the fire within four minutes.

Lizana said the bed must have caught fire underneath and smoldered for some time before the flames became obvious.

The fire chief reported that the house sustained some smoke damage, but the entire contents of the girl's room was destroyed.

Wayne Nabors said the response of the fire department was prompt, and he wished to thank everyone for "what they done."

Also, Nabors said he was surprised to see so much concern from the community as "even the mayor of Bay St. Louis (Eddie Favre) showed up.

"I didn't even know who he was."

"But we appreciate the way people showed they cared."

Since the fire, the Nabors reported that they have been trying to straighten things out in the house. "It was hard that first day, but we are struggling through," Ruth Nabors added.

Lizana said he commended the quick response time of his people and the efficient job they did at extinguishing the fire.

Long Beach resident dies in cycle wreck

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

A 22-year old Long Beach man died when the motorcycle he was driving ran into the back of a logging truck on Highway 90, one mile west of Clermont Harbor, early Monday evening, reported Mississippi State Highway Patrol public affairs officer Danny Tackett.

Roy R. Patenott died approximately 1 a.m. Tuesday at Hancock Medical Center as a result of injuries he sustained because of the accident, Tackett said.

According to Tackett, state trooper Wilbert Miles reported a witness saying "Patenott was following the east bound pulpwood truck when he glanced up for a second before striking the rear of the truck.

"He couldn't stop fast enough."

Patenott was driving a 1982 Suzuki motorcycle.

Tackett said there was no indication that Patenott was speeding or under the influence of alcohol.

No citations were issued by Miles.

The driver of the 1969 GMC logging truck was 63-year old Bay St. Louis resident Mac C. Harris. Harris was reported to have received no injuries.

Patenott was transported to Hancock Medical Center by Mobile Medic.

Magazine article offers advice on driver's rights during traffic stops

BY TRACI BONNEY

Does this sound familiar? While driving down the highway, you are stopped by a police officer. You aren't really sure what you should and shouldn't do or say.

According to a May article from Good Housekeeping (submitted to The Sea Coast Echo by Hancock Sheriff's Deputy Travis Foreman), the first thing you should do is cooperate.

The article suggests that once you've pulled your car to the side of the road, stay inside with your hands on the steering wheel. Don't make any movements that a safety-conscious law officer may interpret as threatening.

When the officer comes to your car, then roll down your window. The article's author, Lisa Belasco, writes that you should let the officer tell you why you have been stopped.

The officer's authority during a traffic violation stop includes the right to ask the passengers to get out of the car; to ask to see the driver's license, the vehicle registration and in some states, proof of automobile insurance; and to look at anything in the car that is in plain view from his or place outside the car.

However, Belasco writes, the officer can search the car only if he or she sees something that looks like a weapon, if the officer has probable cause to believe you're hiding something illegal, or if you give your permission.

You can refuse your permission for a search of your car, according to UCLA law professor Peter Arenella. If you allow the search, anything found (drugs, weapons or open liquor containers, for example) can be

Boaters reject federal 'user fee' tax

The controversial new federal boat "user fee" tax is running into a tidal wave of opposition, with barely five percent of the nation's 4.1 million boaters subject to the new federal boat "user fee" tax complying to date.

The law allows the Coast Guard to levy fines up to $5,000 but anyone receiving a citation during September can avoid the fine by purchasing a decal within 30 days. Normal enforcement procedures and fines will begin Oct. 1.

The annual charge for the boat "user fee" tax is as follows: $25 for boats larger than 16 ft. but less than 20 ft.; $35 for boats 20 ft. and larger but less than 27 ft.; $50 for boats 27 ft. and larger but less than 40 ft.; and $100 for boats 40 ft. and larger.

According to BOAT/US vice president Michael Sciulla, lobbyist for the 400,000-member organization, "Boaters are avoiding the 'user fee' tax like the plague because none of the $715 million the government expects to raise over the next five years will go to the Coast Guard."

Sciulla also noted that boaters already pay their fair share. The federal government will collect over $750 million in federal marine fuel taxes from boaters over the next five years.

On July 31 BOAT/US filed a lawsuit asking the courts to sink the boat "user fee" tax on a variety of statutory and constitutional grounds.

Coast Guard issues rules for commercial fishing vessels

The U.S. Coast Guard has issued a comprehensive set of safety, design and operational regulations for all uninspected commercial fishing vessels except sport fishing vessels. The regulations take effect Sept. 15.

"The Coast Guard is committed to improving safety in the commercial fishing industry," Coast Guard Commandant Admiral J. William Kime said.

"These regulations are a major step in reducing the unacceptably high accident rate in the fishing industry."

Commercial fishing is one of the nation's most dangerous occupations, according to the U.S. Department of Labor. Each year more than 80 fishermen die and some 200 vessels are lost. Until now, uninspected fishing vessels only had to meet minimal safety equipment requirements.

The regulations were mandated by the Commercial Fishing Industry Vessel Safety Act of 1988. The act required the Coast Guard to develop comprehensive safety rules dealing with radio communication, navigation, lifesaving, fire fighting and electrical and marine equipment. It also required a stability evaluation for new vessels and the compilation of accident data.

The Coast Guard based the regulations on recommendations from the Commercial Fishing Industry Vessel Advisory Committee, 500 comments received from the public when the rules were proposed, and testimony from 13 public hearings held around the country. For information, call (202) 267-0214.

ON PATROL

Echo Staff Reports

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY/ BURGLARY OF A VEHICLE

Bay St. Louis Police Investigator David Parker reported Tuesday the arrest of a Bay St. Louis man on charges of burglary of a vehicle and attempted burglary.

Parker said Joseph Gallegos Sr., 45, Rt. 6 Box 900, was arrested Sunday after reportedly trying to break into an employee's car at Hotel Reed around 3 that morning. An eyewitness told police that Gallegos, a maintenance person at Hotel Reed, tried to burglarize a 1986 Chevrolet Spectrum belonging to Thelma Snow.

Gallegos was apprehended up at Waffles on Hwy. 90 by Bay St. Louis police officers Jeff Hair, Capt. Robert Lee and Joe Kepfer, Parker added.

Parker is in charge of the investigation. While released on a $4,000 bond on the attempted burglary charge, Gallegos was arrested Monday on a warrant for burglary of a vehicle in connection with a July 20 incident. Parker said Gallegos is now in the Hancock County jail under $5,000 bond for the July charge, with Detective Tom Burleson in charge of the investigation.

Parker said Burleson was assisted in the Monday arrest by Hancock Deputy Sheriff George Burleson and Bay St. Louis Police Officer Phillip Pavolini.

POSSESSION WITH INTENT TO DISTRIBUTE (CRACK COCAINE)

Metropolitan Narcotics Task Force Director Chris Strong reported Wednesday the arrests of four Harrison residents on drug-related charges.

Arrested were Ernest William Bradley, 23, of Gulfport, Russell Paige, 21, Renaldo Rene Delavallade, 18, and John Benoit, 26, all of Tass Christian. Strong said the arrests occurred around 1 a.m. Tuesday, after Bay St. Louis Police Officer Shane Corr noticed a suspicious vehicle in a local business's parking lot and someone using the public phone in the lot.

According to Strong, Corr investigated the scene and found a car containing crack cocaine, then searched the car and found more of the substance.

Confiscated were eight "rocks" of crack, Strong said. He added that the four men were charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute, and are presently in the Hancock County jail under bonds of $5,000 each.

Task force agent Terry Eley, representing the Bay St. Louis Police Department, is in charge of the investigation.

used as evidence if your case goes to court.

If, on the other hand, you don't allow the search and the officer conducts it anyway, the evidence will not be allowed in court if you can have the search ruled illegal.

Belasco writes that it will benefit you to be polite and cooperative, but not to answer questions designed to get you to admit to any wrongdoing.

She quotes Arenella as saying that if you have not been arrested and read your rights, anything you say can be used against you if you take the case to court to challenge the citation.

In other words, if the officer comments that you look like you're in a hurry, you'd be better off responding that you don't think you were hurrying than to answer that you are late going somewhere.

The last tip offered in the article is this: If you think an officer has overstepped his or her bounds, note the officer's name and badge number. Later, you can lodge a complaint with the department's internal affairs division or file a lawsuit.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

One thing I would like to comment on first this week is the subject of sportsmanship.

By all standards, the St. Stanislaus/Gulfport High football contest last Friday, was the best high school game, I have ever witnessed. I have been attending and covering high school games for a long time.

This is not only my own evaluation, I have had several other folks tell me the same thing.

Many points were scored by both teams, and the game could have gone either way until the final horn. The players on each team showed extreme sportsmanship before, during and after the game.

There were very few flags in the game, and none of these were for flagrant violations.

Another thing I will always remember is that after congratulations were extended between the team members, coaching staffs and school administrators, the players formed a huge circle, and a member of the Gulfport squad offered a prayer of thanks.

The school administrators, coaches, players and students of Gulfport High and St. Stanislaus, should all be commended for the true sportsmanship all sports need and deserve.

As the second week of high school football gets underway Friday night, St. Stanislaus, Hancock High and Pass Christian will be at away from home games, while Bay High will host the Rocks.

Hancock will travel to Harrison Central Friday, hoping to break into the win column for the 1991 season. Both the Hawks and Red Rebels lost last week, so this should be an interesting game.

For quite a few years, Hawk head coach Irvin Favre has not been accustomed to coaching a team with a losing record.

The Hawks could have their game together this week and win victory number one for the season.

The Tigers of Bay High will be playing host to the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws Friday night.

The Tigers lost by only six points last week to Pass Christian and should be ready for the Rocks who won by six points.

This should be a sellout game for Bay High, so I would suggest that spectators arrive early in order to get a seat.

Stanislaus could become over confident after last week's upset victory, and Bay could pull some surprises.

I feel that it will be a close contest.

The Pirates of Pass Christian will play host to East Central Friday night.

Pass Christian edged out Bay High last week 6-0 and will have to do more scoring if they expect to beat East Central.

Your local teams need your support, so plan on attending a game Friday night.

I know the coaches of the Hawks, Tigers, Rock-A-Chaws and Pirates would like to see a stadium of supporters pulling for their respective teams.

Good luck to every team.

See you at the game!

President signs energy and water appropriations bill

U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor announced that all Fifth Congressional District water projects, included in the FY 92 Energy and Water Development Appropriations Bill, will receive funding now that the President has signed the bill into law.

"I am very pleased the Senate accepted all of the House recommendations and funding levels before sending the bill to the President," Taylor said. "I truly believe these projects slated for the Fifth Congressional District are all worthwhile. Those on the Senate side must agree."

"These projects will have a positive effect on the entire Fifth Congressional District," Taylor said. "The deepening of our ports along the Coast will stimulate maritime trade and the Bennet Carre Freshwater Diversion should increase oyster production for commercial and recreational fishermen."

The projects include: —Widening and deepening of the Port of Gulfport. A $48 million project ($6 million in 1992) to dredge the port to its desired 36 feet.

—Annual maintenance of the Port of Pascagoula. A $4.9 million maintenance project to dredge areas of the Sound channel, river channel, bar channel and Bayou Casotte.

—Bennet Carre Freshwater Diversion Project. This $64 million project ($3.2 million in 1992) that will divert freshwater from the Mississippi River into the Mississippi Sound. The project is expected to increase oyster production by 2 million pounds a year.

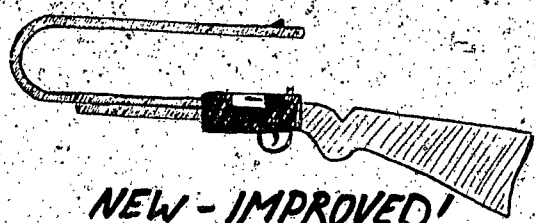

—Gulf Coast Intracoastal Waterway dredging. The Intracoastal Waterway runs from Rigolets, La. to Apalachee Bay, Fla. It serves as the primary navigation channel of the Gulf Coast. The $3.6 million project will cover the costs of dredging various locations of the waterway.

—Wolf and Jourdan Rivers dredged. Jourdan and Wolf Rivers and Bayou Portage will be regularly dredged.

"These projects will only improve the Coast's accessibility to larger cargo ships, the navigability of our waterways and the economic well being of our area," Taylor said.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

America is a nation of many gods

To the Editor:

Quoting a letter to the Sea Coast Echo ("Pastor's fight..." 9/8/91), "Many look at money and see only the bill. Others look further and see also the words 'In God We Trust,'" we reply:

The fact is, if you look closely at the dollar bill, you will not only see the words, "In God We Trust," but you will also see a pyramid with an eye at its apex. That symbol represents the eye of Osiris, a false god of Egypt.

The point of contending with shepherds is well made by the fact that America is a nation of many gods, not just one. The question is, which one do you serve as Christians? Is it Osiris? Is it the dollar? Is it Jesus who was born on Christmas and rose from the dead on Easter? That Jesus does not appear in the Bible.

The Jesus who takes tithes of money from sheep to build buildings, and to support pastors is not in the Bible either. That is why we dare contend with false shepherds.

It may not be the American way to call names, but the Jesus of the Bible did just that to self-righteous religious. "Hypocrites, generation of vipers, children of Satan, ravenous wolves in sheep's clothing" are just a few of those names that Jesus used. He used appropriate names which described them perfectly. Everything he did was appropriate.

We dare to do the same because there are people in this community who do not know they are deceived by hypocrites, who do not know they are taken in by wolves, who do not know they are on the broad path to destruction.

We dare because it is the American way to speak out—especially when what you speak is truth. We dare because we love, just as Jesus loved.

Ungrateful America should thank God for blessings

To the Editor,

As Americans we have enjoyed freedom and democracy for many years—in fact, that is what makes this land of ours so special.

Now that the whole world seems to want these same blessings, I believe we need to remind ourselves of some words spoken by Abraham Lincoln many years ago:

"We have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of heaven; we have been preserved these many years in peace and prosperity; we have grown in numbers, wealth, and power as no other nation has ever grown."

"But we have forgotten God. We have forgotten the gracious hand which preserved us in peace and multiplied and enriched and strengthened us, and we have vainly imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts, that all these things were produced by some superior wisdom and Jesus knew that everyone would not hear his words. The self-righteous religious—who want to support pastors for telling them smooth words, who want to build buildings and to make a show of their works, will always do just that. It's their prerogative. It is the American way; but it does not make them righteous—and it does not save their souls. Only God's Word can do that. False pastors wouldn't think of telling them what God's Word says because they might stop tithing.

It would not be just to condemn an entire group for the sins of a few. We condemn no one. Condemnation is for a higher authority. It is entirely appropriate, however, to speak freely against evil. Some may see, some may not. Some may become indignant, some may completely agree. Some may get angry, and some may get saved.

All need to vote on election day

Dear Editor,

Once again we, who live in the land of the free and home of the brave, called America, are given the privilege of voting.

Yet there are so many who will find excuses for not voting.

If you think a candidate is qualified to run our county and state, then it is your duty to vote for this person.

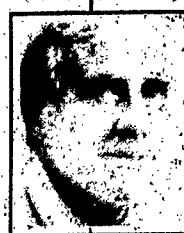

Thousands this past year have given their lives fighting for something we in America take for granted.

Please go to the polls and vote. It's the right thing to do.

Respectfully,

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

Conflict of interest provision causing state legislators misery

Good ole Section 109 of the 1890 Constitution—the conflict of interest provision—is back causing a lot of officials in government, not the least of them state legislators, more misery.

The state Supreme Court dropped a bombshell last week in an opinion by new Justice Chuck McRae which held that it is a violation of Section 109 for any member of the Legislature, or any other public official, to be employed or receive money from any other public agency.

If the ruling stands as written, it would play havoc with the long-standing practice of state legislators serving as attorneys for county boards of supervisors, cities and local school boards, as well as other local entities.

The State Ethics Commission, saying that the McRae ruling conflicts with the court's 1987 interpretation of Section 109 in a test case brought by the commission against a group of legislators, meantime last week was seeking a clarification by the court.

But far beyond state legislators, the ruling would also affect many other public servants around the state, such as public school teachers or college professors who serve as city commissioners or aldermen or as members of state or local boards.

In tough language, McRae said the framers of the 1890 constitutional provision no doubt were aware a strict interpretation of the section would exclude many "excellent people" from holding public office.

But, he said, "they (framers of the constitution) concluded that the danger of the possible abuse of public trust and money was more to be feared than the necessary loss of potential outstanding public servants."

McRae's interpretation of Section 109 went considerably further than any previous ruling by the state's high court as to the meaning of the ethics provision.

The section in essence says that no legislator or other public officer shall benefit directly or indirectly from any contract authorized by law or order of the body of which he is a member, during his term in office and one year after.

The McRae ruling evidently circumvents several key ingredients which constitute ethical violations under Section 109. One that a contract (or job) must be "authorized by" the body of which he is a member and, two, he must benefit "during the term" for which he is elected or chosen.

His interpretation is that ANY instance of a legislator or public official being hired by another state department or local subdivision during his term in office is a violation of 109.

McRae's opinion was wedged into a two-part ruling by the high court on contested 1985 expenditures by the Claiborne County school district. It was part of the ruling that the Claiborne County Board of Education must repay nearly $35,000 it paid then-Sen. Jay Disharoon in 1985 as a consultant to pass a bond issue.

The McRae ruling had immediate political ramifications last week. In the lieutenant governor's race, Lt. Gov. Brad Dye unexpectedly launched a TV spot attacking his Democratic opponent, Sen. Ken Harper of Vicksburg for being paid $196,000 as attorney for the Warren County Board of Supervisors and two other local bodies.

Skeptics wondered if it was more than coincidental that Dye's TV ad was timed to appear the same day the Supreme Court ruling was issued. A Dye campaign spokesperson contended the ad was developed before the court ruling came down because "we felt it was unethical for Sen. Harper to hold these positions."

What raises further questions is why Dye suddenly went on the attack against Harper after previously insisting that he would not respond to any negative comments from his opponents.

Ironically, while Dye singled out Harper as being unethical for serving as attorney of his county board of supervisors, he made no mention that Sen. Bob Montgomery of Canton, whom Dye appointed chairman of the powerful Senate Finance Committee, represents the Madison County Board of Supervisors as well as several other county entities.

Then there are others such as Sen. Rick Lambert of Hattiesburg who is attorney for the City of Hattiesburg, and chairman of Senate Judiciary, and Sen. Terry Jordan of Philadelphia, who is attorney for the Neshoba County Board of Supervisors, and Sen. Eddie Briggs of DeKalb who has been attorney for a local school board.

Payroll deduction is one of the many ways the United Way of Hancock County receives support, in addition to pledges, corporate gifts and donations.

Funding also comes from the Combined Federal Campaign and Combined Agency Campaign. Ellis Cuevas, Hancock UW president said, "Every year we receive requests for additional funding by agencies and deserving organizations wanting to become United Way agencies. The only way we can achieve this is by increasing our campaign."

Manning has a longtime association with United Way and is in demand as a speaker for campaign kick-off celebrations.

Haas added, "We are excited that Archie will be with us for this special occasion and hope this positive spirit will carry over to a successful year of work."

campaign.

Manning and his wife, Olivia, and three sons reside in New Orleans.

He is a Mississippi native, former Ole Miss All-American, and was NFC player of the Year as a New Orleans Saints quarterback. He is a color broadcaster for WWL-radio's New Orleans Saints games and is involved in other business ventures.

Haas concluded, "I would like to express my sincere appreciation to Pat Harvill and Riemann Funeral Homes, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ramsey of Bay Technical Associates Inc., and Diamondhead Property Owners Association for their assistance."

Anyone interested in helping with the Hancock United Way campaign may call Haas at 467-6574.

Railroad

Calgon Carbon plant construction site at the park, needs to be "beefed up" to meet a weight capacity of 80,000 pounds.

The road program contract pays up to $75,000 for road improvements to encourage industrial location and growth in the state.

The program requires the commission to pay for the base work and future maintenance on the road, while the state pays for the top work.

Commission engineer Carlos Cordon said, "I don't expect (the commission) to put more than $6,000 into the base work."

The commission also gave approval to enter into contract with the Gulf Coast Business Incentive Program. The program encourages the hiring of displaced workers by reimbursing 50 percent of the first six weeks of salary to the employer.

The commission agreed to pay $1,800 for four to six weeks of classes to be given to railroad employees in order to meet federal railroad administration certifications in operating procedures.

Olsen stated that by 1992 all railroad employees would be required to meet the certification every three years. "This will be mandatory."

In other business the board approved:

- the general operating docket, items 1-86;
- the railroad operating docket;
- the industrial park revenue docket;
- the general obligation bond of 1990 docket; and
- the infrastructure improvement docket.

Annual 'Salute to the Military' set for Oct. 28

Gen. C. E. Mundy Jr., Commandant of the U.S. Marine Corps, will be the featured speaker at the 13th annual "Salute to the Military" set for Oct. 28 at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum Convention Center.

Special guests will include U.S. Sen. Trent Lott and U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast Chamber of Commerce sponsors the annual event, which is open to the public and is held to honor our nation's military service personnel.

This year's program will give special recognition for Gulf Coast residents who served in Operation Desert Storm.

Sen. Lott, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee and supporter of the annual celebration, said, "I am very excited that we were able to get Gen. Mundy, the Marine Corps' highest ranking member, to speak at the Coast's biggest and most important military event. I am proud to be a part of this year's Salute which is but a small portion of the praise due our military for the job well done in the Persian Gulf and for the continued progress and dedication which has made the U.S. Forces the world's elite."

Mundy was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the USMC in 1957, following graduation from Auburn University. Early assignments included service in the 2nd Marine Division and duty aboard the aircraft carrier Tarawa and the cruiser Little Rock.

He served in Vietnam as Operations Officer and Executive Officer of the 3rd Battalion, 26th Marines, 3rd Marine Division, and as an Intelligence Officer in the Headquarters, III Marine Amphibious Force. He was advanced to Brigadier General in April 1982 and promoted to General July 1, 1991.

Mundy is a graduate of the Marine Corps Command and Staff College and the Naval War College. His decorations include the Legion of Merit, the Bronze Star Medal, the Purple Heart, two Navy Commendation Medals and the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry.

Doors will open for the "Salute to the Military" at 6:30 p.m. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. Fanfare and music will be provided by the Command Band of the Air Force Reserve from Robbins Air Force Base, Ga., which includes members of the former 502nd Air Force Band of the Gulf Coast.

Tickets for the event are available at all Mississippi Gulf Coast Chamber of Commerce offices. Price of tickets, which included dinner and a dance following the program, are $30 for civilians or $22 for active-duty military. Reservations may be made by calling the Mississippi Gulf Coast Chamber of Commerce at (601) 863-2933.

Vic Franckiewicz appointed to legislative advisory committee

State Senator Vic Franckiewicz Jr. of Bay St. Louis has been appointed to the Legislative Advisory Committee of the Commission on Efficiency in Government, according to commission chairman Bobby L. Chain of Hattiesburg.

The commission is supported and funded by the Mississippi business community. It will recommend ways to improve the efficiency in operation of government while protecting the delivery of essential services, including education, to Mississippi citizens.

"Vic's experience and leadership will be invaluable to the commission," said Chain, chairman and chief executive officer of Chain Electric Company.

Franckiewicz served as vice chairman of the Senate Fees, Salaries and Administration Committee in 1991. He also was a member of committees overseeing matters relating to agriculture, ports and industries, municipalities, elections and business and financial institutions.

Terrell Randolph seeks re-election as Superintendent of Education

(Reprinted from RiverSide, a Pearl River Junior College publication)

Terrell "Terry" Randolph

To borrow a line from the A-Team - Terry, Randolph just loves it when a plan comes together. However, for the Hancock County Superintendent of Education and Pearl River Community College Board of Trustee member, this plan was not an overnight fulfillment of a dream, but more like $12 million and a dozen years later type vision.

Just one year ago, the fastest growing county in the state and the fastest growing school system in the state opened the doors to the most modern, high-tech junior and senior high school complex in Mississippi and probably in the Southeast.

Randolph remembers the first day of school last year at Hancock High School. He remembers vividly the smiles, the astonished eyes of students, teachers and parents alike as they viewed the 203,000 square foot facility for the first time.

"I was, I am, so very happy for the students of Hancock County," said Randolph, who has served as superintendent all but two years since 1976. "Their wide-eyed excitement filled the halls and their smiles quickly turned into pride and that pride rolled out into the community," he said.

"Educational Opportunity, Imagination and Progress" is the slogan used by the Hancock County Schools. Such a fitting phrase for one of Mississippi's most progressive systems.

But as the old saying goes, Hancock's lofty perch within the educational system did not come quickly or easily. It was a long, hard fight, which included several knock-downs and setbacks, for both the challenger and the system.

A native of Hancock County and graduate of Bay Senior High School, Terry Randolph literally fought his way out of the Bay area back in the mid-fifties.

Terry was a 150-pound welter-weight fireball. He won three state high school titles in boxing and was awarded a boxing scholarship to attend Louisiana State University.

After scrapping and sparring with the educational system for years Randolph finally received a bachelor of science degree in secondary education in 1962 from the University of Southern Mississippi.

Randolph began his career in education in 1965 by teaching political science and coaching football in Huntsville, Alabama. He then accepted a coaching job in the Madison County School District at Ridgeland (near Jackson) in 1967 and he remained there until returning home in 1969 to teach and coach at Hancock North Central and by 1971 the Hancock girls were state track champs.

"I made my decision to run for superintendent in 1975. It was my first time to seek political office. I decided I could make a difference academically in the Hancock County District."

While living in Jackson, Randolph received his master's degree in educational administration and supervision from Mississippi College in Clinton.

In his first political race, Randolph defeated six other candidates, including the incumbent and two former superintendents of education.

He served as superintendent until 1980 when he lost his reelection bid by two votes. But only two years later, the people of Hancock County elected Randolph to fill the unexpired term of the superintendent who was forced from office after pleading guilty to a felony charge.

"It was a very critical period for the Hancock County School District," said Randolph. "I was faced with the task of restoring the integrity of the district."

He was elected to a second full term in 1983 and as he put it "during the most critical period." The Democrat was re-elected in 1987 and is again running here in 1991.

While out of office from 1980 to 1982, Randolph served as 16th Section Land Consultant for Hancock, Jackson and several other counties.

Actually the work that he began as superintendent of education in 1976 in reality helped to account for the new Hancock County School facility and the students' academic position in the state today.

Soon after taking office the first time, Randolph took on one of the state's biggest sacred cows - Sixteenth Section Land Leases. At that time the Hancock County School District was netting only about 50 cents per acre or a total of $400 per year from 11,000 acres of 16th Section lands.

"Sixteenth Section land was set aside over 200 years ago for our school children," said Randolph, "and this trust had been abused for all these years."

Randolph set out in Hancock County to negotiate new leases. His fight was not an easy task. There were a couple of hundred leases he had to work over and there were, to say the least, some unhappy campers or lease holders in the county.

The law says that Sixteenth Section land is a public trust, held in trust by the Board of Education, and it shall manage it to a higher degree than if it was their own property.

"The land belongs to the children," said Randolph, "however, I was not a popular person when I was forcing the issue."

By 1978, Randolph's push had taken on a statewide flavor as the Mississippi Legislature passed the Sixteenth Section Reform Act. Randolph helped draft the bill and John Ed Ainsworth, the Mississippi Land Commissioner, used Hancock's example to reform every county in the state.

Randolph was able to renegotiate all of the leases in the county without going to court. "Instead of getting $400 a year our school system earned $270,000 from mineral and land leases this past year," he said.

In fact, over the last 10 years, Randolph was able to save $1.5 million for the school district. And instead of the citizens of Hancock County having to repay an $11 million bond for the new school, only $6.6 million was needed.

"Taxes would definitely be higher if it were not for the revenue we collect from our 16th Section property," said Randolph. "This is a documented fact."

The superintendent's dream of a centralized modern educational complex did not mature overnight. And it did not come without ruffling some local feathers.

As mentioned, the total cost of the complex was $11 million. A bond issue, which had failed on three other occasions, netted the school $6.6 million with the difference being made up from interest off the bond principle, and more than $1.5 million in money saved from 16th Section money over 11 years in anticipation of the projection coming to fruition. Some state and federal bond money was also used.

Randolph said the biggest asset for the school district has been the re-thinking of its local citizens. "People began to believe that we needed a new facility," he said.

He cited the number of small businesses which have sprung up to help service the larger industries and corporations which have moved in and the large number of employees who have moved in to work in these new industrial and corporate businesses.

Hancock schools earned $270,000 from Sixteenth Section leases this past year

"Our overall attitude toward education began to change in the 1980's," he said.

Another problem Randolph faced was to move the High School to the more centralized location near Stennis Airport and the Vocational-Technical Center.

"A lot of people did not want to lose their local high school, their community school," said Randolph. "I understand why they felt that way, but, it had to be done."

The new junior and senior high school is designed to accommodate full growth patterns up to 3000 students. The entire complex has central air and heat with an activities building which will seat 2000 people. The outside grounds have a football field able to seat 4500, soccer, softball and baseball practice fields, and covered walkways connecting buildings.

Randolph said the school system registered over 200 new students last year and he anticipates an increase this fall. Throughout the system there are 2650 students. When Randolph took office that number was 1750.

And after all the battles Randolph has fought over the years and the obvious success education has had on local and state levels, he takes the most pride in the achievements of the Hancock County students.

"I take pride in the fact that our school has the highest accreditation rating the state offers," said Randolph. "I take pride in the fact that 65 percent of our graduates will attend college in the fall, packing with them $500,000 in scholarships."

Randolph says he remembers in 1972 when only 15 percent of Hancock graduates attended college and there was no vision for education.

"We have moved from the absolute bottom of academic performance to near the top," said Randolph. "I will stack up our kids against any in the state."

"I'm excited about what I see here in the county," said Randolph. "We now have a positive attitude about education and it is being shown in the confidence of our students."

From an academic standpoint the Hancock School District may be starting another first. Through a cooperative agreement with the Bay St. Louis-Waveland school districts, the students of the two school districts will now have an opportunity to take classes at Bay High and Hancock High.

"Bay High offers some classes we don't and we provide some classes they don't schedule," said Randolph. "So we decided why not give all our students the opportunity to expand their choice of curriculum."

This past July, Pearl River College turned over the adjacent Hancock County Vocational-Technical Center to the Hancock County School District.

Hancock County schools will act as the planning district, administrative district and fiscal agent for the two districts.

Randolph says he gets his motivation for working long hours, almost seven days each week, from the students. "I spend as much time as possible listening and talking to our students," he said. "They drive me to do more - to do what is best for the school system. They give me the ideas."

It's not easy, in fact it may be impossible, to separate Terry Randolph's personal life from his job as Hancock County Superintendent.

He's put so much into the local educational process. Even when he suffered a heart attack at Christmas 1989 and later when he had open heart surgery in the early part of 1990, his thoughts were never far from the children of Hancock County.

"My health is good," said Randolph, "and I am ready and able to continue my service to the local children."

In December of this year Randolph will receive his doctorate degree from the University of Southern Mississippi.

"I am convinced that I have provided strong leadership that was needed during critical periods," said Randolph. "But to be candid, the task of implementing educational reforms is not complete. Our district will be involved in Performance Based Accreditation, basic skills and the implementation of a District Five Year Plan."

"Just as the Hancock students feel a personal commitment to protecting their new school, I, too, feel a commitment to protecting, developing and encouraging our students," Randolph said.

"I'm still in the ring and quite honestly I'm not ready to step out," said Randolph.

OLA Food Festival set Oct. 4-6

The people of Bay St. Louis are gearing up for what has become a quite popular event on the Gulf Coast entertainment calendar—the annual International Food Festival.

Every year thousands of people from surrounding Gulf Coast communities travel to Bay St. Louis to partake of the festival's varied food dishes, great music, arts and crafts, games and other fun-filled events.

This year's festival, which is traditionally held during the first weekend in October, kicks off Friday, Oct. 4 at 5:30 p.m. with a fish dinner, music and arts/crafts displays.

The festival opens at 11 a.m. Saturday and Sunday.

The Food Fest was started years ago as a fund-raising event by a small group of parents, local residents and friends of Our Lady Academy, an all-girls Catholic High School in Bay St. Louis. Catholic schools, although open to anyone who chooses to attend, receive very little financial support from the state or federal governments, and therefore rely heavily on fund raising as a means of minimizing the cost to parents.

The Food Fest fits the fund-raising bill quite nicely. Over the years it has not only grown in size and popularity, but it has also evolved into an event which is heavily supported by the local community. The Food Fest is organized, orchestrated and operated by an all-volunteer army of teachers, parents and local friends of the school. Proceeds benefit Our Lady Academy.

Major highlights of the three-day event include a large variety of arts and crafts booths, which are set up on the festival grounds; various foods, including seafood, American, Greek, Mexican, Oriental, Italian and Western; games for the children; and all but continuous entertainment.

In what has become a local tradition, John "Chappy" Chapman, chef and owner of Chappy's Seafood Restaurant in Long Beach, will again host a booth of his famous Cajun delicacies.

The highlight of the Food Fest entertainment schedule occurs on Saturday evening when the increasingly popular "Passport" of New Orleans will return for the second year.

Like their performances of prior year, "The Passport" will again entertain the festival audience with exciting and diversified renditions of 50's, 60's and 70's popular rock groups. Among their most exciting numbers are impersonations of Elvis, the Blues Brothers, the Rolling Stones and the Beatles.

Admission to the festival grounds, located on South Beach next to Our Lady of the Gulf Church, is open to the public without charge.

With the growing popularity of "ethnic" cuisines in this country (and elsewhere as well) far more lamb is appearing on American tables than in other times. Lamb dishes are an important part of many cuisines.

Lamb has been popular in the Eastern Mediterranean area, for instance, for thousands of years; and lamb is as much a part of the Italian culinary tradition as oil and garlic, two ingredients which combine well with this richly flavored meat.

Today's lamb is lean and tender, far more so than formerly; and, with National Lamb Month being celebrated this month, you might want to try your hand at a lamb roast or chops or stew or some other dish. National Lamb Month used to be celebrated in the Spring, but the American Sheep Industry Association changed it to September so that it coincides with the time when lamb is most plentiful and at its best value.

A roast leg of lamb and crown roast of lamb are traditional ways to serve lamb, but I also like lamb steaks or chops or brochettes. Lamb is quite a versatile meat, in texture and cooking more akin to veal than to beef. Grill it, roast it, broil it, or sauté it with seasonings or whatever. It's also one of the best meats for the microwave, cooking quickly because of its tenderness.

When cooking lamb, the prime rule to keep in mind is not to overpower it with too heavy sauces or glazes, and not to overcook it, for it's at its most flavorful and tender when served slightly pink.

If you're roasting lamb, insert a meat thermometer, and heat to an internal temperature of 140 degrees for rare, 150 for medium and 160 for medium well—and never, never cook lamb more than medium well, as it loses flavor and tenderness when leathery-overdone!

If I am roasting a leg of lamb, I like to give it the Greek touch of lemon and mint. I crush or crumble fresh or dried mint leaves, and mix with lemon juice, garlic or garlic powder, and salt and pepper. I sprinkle this liberally over the leg of lamb before roasting. Lamb steaks or chops are also tasty when cooked this way.

And, one of my favorite ways with lamb calls for juniper berries, which give the dish a special flavor, but juniper berries aren't very easy to find at times, although available. So, I just substitute a couple of spoonfuls of gin in the marinade—after all, juniper berries are what gives gin much of its flavor, remember? Here's:

LAMB CHOPS OR STEAKS SAUTE
1 to 1 1/2 lbs. lamb chops or steaks

1 cup Burgundy or other red wine
1 carrot, sliced
1 yellow onion, sliced
Thyme and bay leaf
4 Juniper berries or 2 Tblsp. gin

Sauce
3 Tblsp. butter
1 green onion
1 orange
1 lemon
1 tsp. Dijon mustard
4 oz. currant jelly
1/2 cup Port

The night before you plan to cook this dish, or at least a few hours ahead of time, place the chops or steaks in a non-metal dish, along with the sliced carrot, onion, a little thyme and a bay leaf. Cover with the Burgundy and add just a bit of pepper. Turn the meat a few times while it rests in the marinade.

Meanwhile, peel half the orange and half the lemon quite thinly, to be sure you don't get any of the white pith. Slice into julienne and boil in a bit of water for a few minutes (five) and drain and set aside.

Remove the meat from the marinade and blot dry with paper towels. Set aside while you make the sauce. Melt 1 tablespoon of the butter in a small saucepan and cook the chopped green onion until transparent. Strain the marinade and add to the pan. Boil, uncovered, until it has reduced to a fourth of a cup.

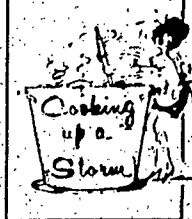

Add the jelly, Port wine, a liberal squeeze of orange and lemon juices, and stir until it's all blended and melted. Season to taste with salt and pepper and add the julienned peels. Let the mixture simmer while you saute the meat.

Melt the remaining butter in a skillet, add the meat as soon as the butter stops foaming, and saute five minutes a side or until it reaches the "doneness" you wish—but don't overcook. Remove the lamb chops or steaks to a plate, pour the sauce into the skillet to melt and mix with the drippings. Serve the sauce separately.

It isn't all that involved a dish; it just takes a bit of time to tell you about it!

Wal-Mart sponsors Safety Awareness Week

The Waveland Wal-Mart store sponsors safety awareness now through Sept. 14. The Wal-Mart Safety Awareness

Shoreline Park Civic meeting set Sept. 21

The Shoreline Park Civic Association will hold its regular meeting Saturday, Sept. 21 at 6 p.m. at the new voting precinct on the Cut-Off Road.

The association is looking for new members to enhance the Neighborhood Watch Program now in effect.

Malcolm Tullier, president, said, "We are now trying to rebuild our membership, as the association is for all the property owners in Shoreline Park."

Week is designed to inform and educate customers and Wal-Mart associates of the importance of safety in communities across the company's 37-state trade territory.

According to Marilyn Bullington, manager of the Waveland Wal-Mart store, there will be many opportunities for customers to be involved in Safety Awareness Week at their local store.

"Wal-Mart associates care about our customers and their safety," said Bullington. "There are special promotions at our store, such as boat safety tips; a CPR course today at 9 a.m. (three hours); home safety tips; and a poster contest for all the children in the area with valuable Wal-Mart gift certificates being awarded."

Feel free to call the store at 467-4371 with any questions.

Dedicated to the Future of Hancock County

PAID POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT BY RONALD E. CUEVAS

I've observed something in the past few weeks. Men like electronic gadgets.

Now, I've known that for a while, but it has been more and more noticeable lately. Everywhere I've been in the past few weeks, at least one man in the group has started talking about his answering machine, VCR, television or computer.

Men collect electronic "doohickies" like women collect clothes and makeup. One "whatever" just isn't enough. If a guy has one answering machine, he immediately starts looking for a newer and better model. If he has a computer, he plans how he can upgrade it with laser printers, modems, networking and a direct access line to the NAVOCEANO supercomputer at Stennis Space Center.

Why?

I tried to take an informal survey, but I didn't receive much response. Whenever the subject came up, and before the males present got too wound up with their electronic babbling, I'd say something like, "What is it with men and electronics, anyway?"

Usual response: A shrug of the shoulders accompanied by a look that said You have a point, but it beats me, sometimes followed by an "I don't know, Traci."

Maybe it goes back to the human race's collective packrat-ism. Personally, I believe in creation, but for you evolutionists, perhaps we weren't descended from apes at all. Maybe, somewhere, someday, a geologist will find a fossil that he can identify as — oh, I don't know, maybe homo rodentius?

I wonder what a homo rodentius fossil would look like. Picture it: a tiny prehistoric rat/human skeleton, frozen forever in a piece of rock, with the imprint of a small suitcase clutched in one fossilized claw.

Think so? Nah. "I think we collect things because we need to have some sense of security. Why women collect things to wear while men collect things to fiddle with, is one of life's mysteries. It probably has something to do with that practical part of our brain (yes, we do have a practical part) that says, "Hey, if you got a pile up things, at least make sure they're useful."

Well, whatever the reason, I guess that's one of the things that makes life fun. We girls can't figure out you guys, and vice versa.

And while the struggle for understanding of the opposite sex continues, the closets fill.

USM posts record enrollment

The University of Southern Mississippi has recorded a record enrollment of 13,789 students for the 1991 fall semester, topping last year's previous record by some 4.1 percent.

According to totals in place on Aug. 30, the final day of late registration, USM had enrolled 12,175 students on the Hattiesburg campus. That was an increase of more than 400 students over last fall and marked the first time USM's enrollment has topped 12,000 on the Hattiesburg campus.

An additional 1,614 students who registered for classes at USM's three Gulf Coast centers at Long Beach, Gautier and Kessler Air Force Base gave the university a combined, total enrollment of 13,789. Last year's previous combined record enrollment of 13,242 included 1,469 students on the Gulf Coast.

Bay Little Theater picnic set

The Bay St. Louis Little Theater will host its annual picnic Sunday, September 15, 1-4 p.m. on the theater grounds.

All theater members and those interested in joining the theater are invited to attend.

Hot dogs, hamburgers and beverages will be provided.

Those attending are encouraged to bring a side dish or a dessert.

Entertainment will be provided, including members of the cast of "Dracula — the Musical?" performing sneak previews of some scenes from the show, which opens October 18.

In addition to "Dracula — the Musical?", upcoming productions include "Rumors," "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas," "Little Murders," and "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

The rustic theater, located on Boardman Avenue, was constructed from surplus materials from Keesler AFB at the end of World War II. The Bay St. Louis Little Theater is the second oldest theater troupe in Mississippi and wishes to continue its heritage by encouraging all who are interested in joining.

For more information, call Carol Young at 467-2121.

Recycling conference set for Gulf Coast

Some 600 persons from throughout the country will gather in Biloxi Sept. 19-20 to give and get the latest information on solid waste recycling.

The second Central Gulf

States Solid Waste Recycling and Marketing Conference will be at the Broadwater Beach Resort.

"Our program is designed for representatives of industry, business and government at all levels, especially those who are implementing or planning solid waste management programs," said Dr. Caroline Hill of Mississippi State University.

Hill is technology transfer director for the MSU-based Mississippi Waste Reduction/Waste Minimization Program, which is sponsoring the conference with the state Department of Environmental Quality.

Mississippi entertainers Jerry Clower and Paul Ott, both known for their environmental concerns, also will be featured.

For more information on the conference, telephone Hill at 601/325-9067.

Two named to Perk v.p. list

The vice president's lists at Gulf Coast Community College's Perkinston Campus have been announced.

To be named to the list, students must maintain a "B" average, making no grade lower than a "C" while taking at least 15 semester hours.

Those named to the list in academic and technical studies were Sheila A. Smith of Bay St. Louis and Jason E. Peterson of Pass Christian.

Pearl River Co. photo contest seeks entries

The Pearl River County Soil & Water Conservation District is sponsoring a photography contest.

Entries may be submitted until Sept. 13 at the district office in Poplarville or at the Crosby Arboretum office in Picayune. Winners will be announced on Sept. 17, and all entries will be exhibited at the County Fair.

After the fair, pictures may be picked up at the Soil Conservation Service Office in Poplarville. Judges will be Lynn C. Gammill from Hattiesburg, Will Sullivan from Picayune, and Kenneth Weir from Poplarville.

Eligibility is limited to amateur photographers, and photographs are to be of subjects in Pearl River County. Each print must be 5 x 7 unframed and unmounted. There will be three age divisions: junior, 12 years and under; senior, 18 to 19 years; and adult.

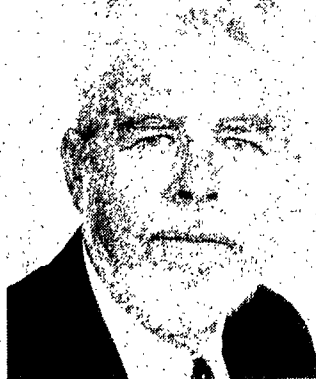

There will be two categories: black and white and color. An entry card and an identification tag must accompany each photograph, and a person may enter a photograph in both categories.

For additional information, call Dr. John A. Grant Jr. at 795-8415 or Mrs. Katherine Furr at 798-6961.

Dear Friends,

Like most of you I believe government MUST be run as efficiently as private business. We DESERVE a dollars worth of service for every tax dollar paid. But to be effective, government must be responsive to the people it serves. That means listening to people and cooperating.

As a lifelong resident of this area with 17 years service in state and local government, I have experience making government work for people.

I'll work with you, I'll work for you, and I'll never stop listening.

Ward Vies for District 1 Seat

James T. Ward, 49, recently announced his candidacy for Hancock County District 1 Supervisor.

Born in Ocean Springs, he was graduated from Ocean Springs High School in 1960, then enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps for four years.

After receiving an honorable discharge from the Marines, he moved to Bay St. Louis, where he began employment at the Mississippi Test Facility (now the John C. Stennis Space Center) with the security department. He was later employed by the Boeing Co. as a mechanic in the Saturn program.

He has owned Ward Well Drilling for 21 years and has experience in business administration.

Ward is married to the former Cheryl Darlene Moran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moran of Lakeshore. They have three children and two grandchildren, all Hancock County residents.

He said, "After careful consideration I decided to seek election for the office of District 1 Supervisor. I see and hear each day the needs of our community, district and county. Improving these needs - such as drainage, roads, beach, recreational programs for our children and beautification of District 1 - will be my top priorities."

"I am familiar with the process and procedures required to get jobs done effectively and efficiently."

CIRCLES OF CONFUSION

All about photography 'n stuff
By T.H. 'Doc' Toups

"What is the meaning of life, Master?" The neophyte knelt humbly before his teacher. Wreathed in smoke from an incense burner, the older man's eyes seemed ominous in candlelight.

With speed which defied his years, the Master thrust his hand beneath the saffron folds of his robe and produced a Brownie box camera. "Photography is the reason for life, my child. We all seek its meaning," he said.

The acolyte persisted, "Why, Master, can I not seem to get the beautiful tonality of Kodak's Tri-X film on their newer T-Max 400?"

The Master stared at his pupil for thirty seconds, rolled his eyes to the back of his head and collapsed. Several months later, after a brief stint in the Betty Ford Clinic, he was spotted in Laramie, Wyoming, spare-changing cowboys to buy flash cubes for his Goodwill- purchased Instamatic.

After several critically acclaimed, major New York exhibitions, rumors persist that he is involved in multi-million dollar product endorsement negotiations with a major Tasmanian film manufacturer.

It goes without saying that the above scenario is pure fantasy. With the current shape our economy is in, very few of us can afford to purchase second-hand instamatic cameras!

This brings us to the point of this new column: To publicly hang all those government servants who take driver's license photographs. Too violent, eh? Okay. We'll merely confiscate their cameras.

Confiscation is the least we responsible citizens demand. Heretofore top-secret government statistics reveal that low self-esteem resulting from driver's license photographs is a major cause of chain saw murder, excessive highway littering and failure to renew motorcycle safety inspection stickers. It's a national scandal of the first magnitude and something needs to be done!

You can do your part by sending your queries regarding photography, the deeper meaning of life, or the repair of intricate and dangerous liaisons to me, care of The Sea Coast Echo.

Arbor Day Foundation offers free oak trees

Ten free oak trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during September.

The free trees are part of the nonprofit Foundation's Trees for America campaign.

"These magnificent wide-spreading trees will be picturesque additions to your landscape," said John Rosenow, the foundation's executive director.

"They were selected for this campaign because of the shade and special beauty they will give your home. Live oaks grow rapidly when young and may live to be centuries old."

The trees will be shipped, postpaid at the right time for planting between Oct. 15 and Dec. 10 with enclosed planting instructions. The six- to 12-inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to: Ten Live Oaks, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by Sept. 30.

Canvassing the South

Jeanne Szczechowski has been designing needlepoint canvasses since 1978. In 1981, she wrote a book of cross-stitch designs titled "The Flavor of New Orleans." This was followed in 1983 with the publication of another cross-stitch book, "The Southern Experience." Jeanne is self-taught and said her childhood exposure to her grandmother's needlepoint inspired her love of the work. She described needlepoint and cross-stitch as "a craft pushed to an art form." Her work is on display Sunday in the Third Annual Artists Open Studio Tour. (Photo by T.H. (Doc) Toups)

The map for the Third Annual Artists Open Studio Tour Sunday, Sept. 15, 1-6 p.m.

Masking

Artists Open Studio Tour participants Judith Anton and Tony Powers produce handwrought Mardi Gras and other masks at Clay Time on Hwy. 90. With the help of Judith's brother, Peter McCall, Clay Time represents their first venture into over-the-counter retail sales. Judith is a graduate of Boston University, with a B.S. in anthropology. Her father is an anthropologist, and she explained that her father's work brought her into contact with a wide variety of masks, especially in Africa, while she travelled with her family as a child. While much of their work is produced in molds, they are looking forward to doing more "free clay" type work. (Photo by T.H. (Doc) Toups)

Vietnam era vehicles added to museum

Camp Shelby's historic display at the post's Armed Forces Museum now boasts three Vietnam era military vehicles with the help of volunteer labor by Mississippi Army National Guard members.

The Guardsmen, most of them full-time employees at Camp Shelby and all members of the 3656th Maintenance Company, worked 10 hours a day, six days a week restoring the vehicles. Their services were worth about $15,000 in labor.

According to Sgt. Charles Eppling of Hattiesburg, considered an expert in the restoration field, "They did in two weeks what it would have taken me a year to do on my own."

Eppling also is a full-time Guard member who spends most of his evenings and weekends restoring display items for the museum. He has restored nearly 30 military vehicles dating from World War II for exhibition at Camp Shelby and special events.

The three newly acquired vehicles—all donated to Mississippi through the federal system—include a jeep (the first of its model issued); a six-wheel amphibious "Gamma Goat," and an M48A1 tank, the main battle tank in Vietnam.

The Camp Shelby Armed Forces Museum is open 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday and 1-5 p.m. on Sunday. It is closed on Mondays. Admission is free.

For more information contact the Armed Forces Museum Foundation, Inc., P.O. Box 5027, Jackson, MS 39296-5027 or call 973-6271.

MILITARY MENTIONS

LT CROLL

Steven J. Croll has been commissioned a second lieutenant through the Air Force ROTC program, and earned a bachelor's degree at the University of Mississippi, Oxford.

He is the former ward of Betty G. Allen of Pass Christian. The lieutenant is a 1987 graduate of Hancock North Central High School.

PVT NECAISE

Army National Guard Private Rusty L. Nécaise has completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

He is the son of Shirley M. and John E. Nécaise of Bay St. Louis.

PVT CARTER

COMMUNITY SERVICES

Adult Literacy Education

Tutoring sessions for adults who want to learn to read and write are available through the Hancock County Library System. The program is open free of charge to any adult aged 16 and above who wants to improve reading skills to a grade five level.

Each student meets one-on-one with a certified tutor trained in the use of the Laubach Adult Literacy Method. Student/tutor units meet at a time and learning center convenient to both. Learning centers for literacy are currently located in Bay St. Louis, Kiln, Waveland, Diamondhead and Pearlinton.

Call Ruth Krebs, Hancock County literacy coordinator, at the Bay St. Louis Library, 467-5282, for information. Persons who wish to teach adults to read as volunteer literacy tutors are also encouraged to call.

Blood Pressure

Retired Senior Volunteer Program sponsors free blood pressure testing Tuesdays, 9:30-11:30 a.m., American Legion Post No. 77, Waveland; Wednesdays, 10:30-11:30 a.m., RSVP office, Senior Citizens Center, Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis.

Hancock Medical Center Women's Auxiliary (Pink Ladies) conducts free blood pressure testing at the hospital, 10-11:30 a.m. Tuesdays.

Legal Line

Volunteer attorneys answer legal questions from the general public from 6 to 7 p.m., first Wednesdays at 1-374-4160. The service is sponsored by Harrison County Young Lawyers, South Mississippi Planning and Development District Area Agency on Aging and South Mississippi Legal Services Corporation.

Money Management

The Consumer Money Management Center serves the public by providing free financial consultations as well as informational literature and seminars for employers, educational institutions and civic and professional groups.

Information and assistance from the center relates to various aspects of personal money management including budgeting, credit repayment, insurance, and investments. The service is sponsored by Mississippi State University and Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. To set up an appointment call Hancock County Extension Office, 467-5456.

Senior Citizens Center

Located in the Valena C. Jones Bldg. at 301 Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis, the center serves Hancock County citizens 60 plus years of age.

Under the Hancock County Human Resource Agency, the center provides classes in ceramics, macramé, art, counted cross stitch, silk flowers, ornaments, framing and various other crafts. Other programs include "Reminiscence" and "For Men Only." A morning snack is provided with donations from various clubs and businesses.

The center has a contract to provide 35 home delivered meals a day to those seniors who cannot provide for themselves, and 25 meals for those who have a need for a hot well-balanced meal daily in the cafeteria at the center.

Transportation is provided through a contract with Coast Area Transportation for most seniors in the county to bring them into the center, or to take them to the grocery, doctor, etc.

The contract with Methodist Senior Services provides two homemakers for about two hours a week to homebound, needy seniors to do light house-keeping or errands for them.

For more information, call the center at 467-9292 from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

GED Classes

Anyone interested in preparing for the GED will find help and free instructions at the Hancock High School library.

Mrs. Lois Abrams teaches day classes Monday and Tuesday from 9 to noon.

Charles Rolison and Mrs. Barbara Ferguson teach night classes Monday and Wednesday from 6 to 9.

For more information, call Mrs. Barbara White at 467-2251.

Parkinson Support Group

There is a certain magic that takes over when people who share the same problem get together to help each other. Support groups are a blessing formed by closeness and love to help take away the sting that has resulted from the thought of being alone.

The public is invited to all meetings, which are held the second Sunday at 2 p.m. at Garden Park Community Hospital in Gulfport. For information, call 863-2929 or 467-0307.

St. Vincent Thrift Store

Waveland Conference, St. Vincent de Paul Society operates a thrift store, City Hall Annex, Coleman Avenue. It is open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 10 until 3, and Saturday, 10 a.m. until noon. An information and referral service is available from 1:30 until 3:30 p.m. on Wednesday. For additional information, call 467-0708.

Bay-Waveland Crisis Pregnancy Center

The Bay-Waveland Crisis Pregnancy Center offers free counseling, pregnancy tests, maternity and baby clothes. Located on Highway 90, next to the Unique Shoppe in Waveland, the center offers a 24-hour hotline, 467-3444.

Jobs for Mississippi Graduates

Seniors at Hancock High School who plan to go directly to work after graduation may enroll in the Jobs for Mississippi Graduates Program (JMG), for assistance in locating quality jobs after graduation.

The program, which is one of six in the state, seeks to enhance employability skills. For additional information, contact Mark France at Hancock High School at 467-2251.

Incest Survivors Anonymous

Incest Survivors Anonymous, a support group for survivors of childhood sexual abuse by a family member or other authority figure, meets weekly. For more information about dates, times and locations, call Susan at 466-3459 or Barbara at 255-1092.

PWA/HIV Project of Mississippi

The Hancock County branch of the PWA/HIV Project of Mississippi has an anonymous support group for persons with AIDS and another for their loved ones and caretakers. The Bay St. Louis based affiliate of the statewide organization serves Hancock County and west Harrison County.

For more information, call Edith Back at 467-2445 or Betty Brunner at 467-8589.

Christian Youth Ministries

Teens reach out to others through sharing

BY JANET MCQUEEN
The home of Derek and Jamey Breerwood has doors that are open to any teen, with any problem, at any hour.

The Waveland couple, with two teenagers of their own, have provided a setting where youths can gather to express their feelings and share their problems.

A core group of teenagers, now beginning their senior year in high school, began meeting 2½ years ago every Sunday night to discuss a variety of issues with a Christian emphasis. They chose a name this year, "Christian Youth Ministries."

"Our core group is now ministering to seventh, eighth and ninth graders," said Jamey Breerwood. "They are very confident, free of negative peer pressure and enjoy their spirituality."

"Many come into the group with problems stemming from low self-esteem and a poor family background, and I don't mean financially; while some join us who are perfectly well-adjusted. They are simply looking to better themselves."

Brittany Ellis, 16, who has participated for several years, said in reference to the younger teens, "People don't understand that they are experiencing a lot of things that their parents don't know about. Many of the 13-14-year-olds have so many problems, and have no one to help them make a right decision."

with the group since 1989.

"In the beginning, I felt alone. Now I am part of a family."

Twice a year, Christian Youth Ministries sponsors "lock-ins," where teenagers meet from 8 p.m. until 8 a.m. to discuss different topics, play games and share "a time of reconciliation."

This summer, several of the older members offered testimony on some of the things they experienced in hopes of preventing the younger teens from making the same mistakes.

"Most people have no idea what a teen could be living with," said Breerwood.

"Many times these youths are labeled 'bad kids,' but, once you gain their trust, love them unconditionally and set guidelines, the truth comes out."

"Who can judge these kids? We have all made mistakes and will continue to do so until we die," she said.

Several community service projects have been adopted by CYM this year. The teens volunteered at the Child Development Center over the summer, and also work with physically and mentally challenged people, as well as the elderly.

Friday night dances are hosted as an alternative to "hanging out," and getting into trouble, said Breerwood. Pionics, sailing, canoeing and trips to the Aquarium of the Americas and the Audubon Zoo have also been enjoyed by the group.

"Many teens feel they are alone in their problems, and they are not," she said. "We emphasize what everyone should apply in their lives...learning to love one another as they are, where they are, and to love themselves."

"Let the children come to me, for the Kingdom of God belongs to such as they."

"They will listen to us, where they may not listen to an adult, because we have gone through many of the same situations," said Ellis.

Rick Ramos, 17, now resides with the Breerwoods, following the death of both of his parents. A student at St. Stanislaus High School, Ramos has experienced his share of problems on the road to adulthood.

"I think many kids have too much unsupervised time. They have so much freedom and really no place to go, which leads to trouble."

"They are confused, and not educated on the effects of some of their actions. They are doing a number of things they shouldn't be doing."

"It is easier for them to talk to us. We can give them a different perspective, having gone through some of the same things."

Tigers win two, lose one in season starters

BY TRACI BONNEY

Bay High and Junior High Tigers scored two wins and one loss over the Pass Christian Pirates last week.

The varsity Tigers lost their season opener Friday to Pass Christian 6-0, while the 9th and 7th/8th grade teams both defeated their Pirate counterparts. The 9th-graders won 22-0, while the 7th/8th graders scored a 20-0 shutout.

Coach Rocky Gaudin reported that the varsity Tigers struggled throughout their game with the defense and made many first-game mistakes, as did the Pirates. The game's only score was a third quarter Pass Christian TD on a 75-yard drive, aided by three penalties and a tipped pass caught for a first down.

Bay High came close to a touchdown in the fourth quarter, but was stopped by the Pirates, Gaudin added.

He said outstanding players included Keith Corr, Chad Strahan and Adrian Whavers on offense, and the entire defense.

Bay High Athletic Club Players of the Week were Adrian

Whavers on offense and Jeff Hopgood on defense. Pizza Hut Players of the Week were Keith Corr for offense and Chris Roberts for defense.

Gaudin said that in the 9th grade match, the Tigers played an outstanding game of solid defense led by Leroy Hawkins, Brad Laneaux, Raymond McCall and Yancey Mayfield. The offense scored on runs by Leroy Hawkins, Xavier Lewis and Brad Laneaux.

In the 7th/8th grade game, the Tigers racked up big plays on offense by Wali Shabazz and Malcolm Day, and had solid inside running from fullback Danny Farrell.

Danny Farrell also led the defense that shut out the Pirates, along with Donnie Ray and T.J. Hawkins.

Gaudin said, "The first week of our 1991 season saw our junior high team (7th/8th grade) play very well on just two weeks of practice, in defeating a solid Pass Christian team. Our 9th grade team did just as well in the following game."

"In the varsity game we played just as I have been telling the people: good solid defense, a fair kicking game, and a very erratic, self-destructing offense. We started only three seniors on offense and only three on defense while playing about 25 to 30 different players during the game."

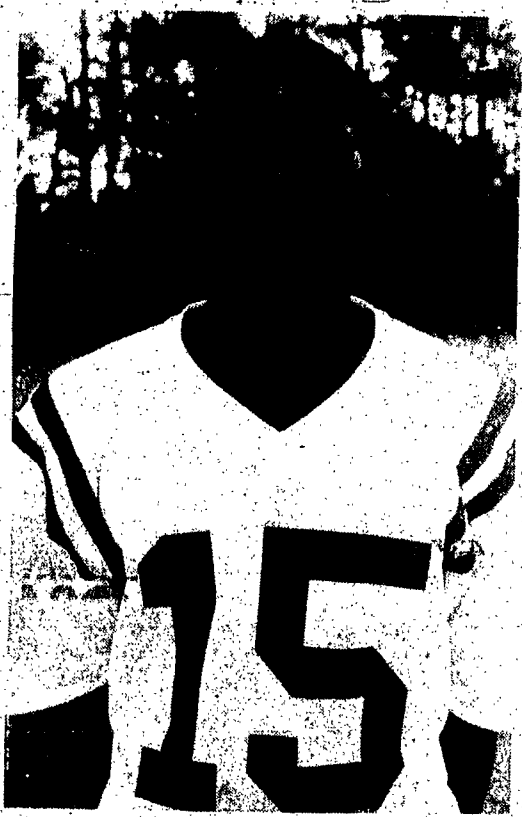

"We feel sure that as we gain experience and mature during the season, our defense and kicking game will get even stronger, and hopefully our offense will execute better and score some points."

"We expect a great turnout for the St. Stanislaus game Friday and look forward to playing the Rocks on our home field. It should be a great game."

Bay Jr. High Player of Week

Wali Shabazz was chosen Jr. High Player of the Week by the Bay High Athletic Club for the week of September 2-6. He was leading rusher in the 7th/8th grade team's 20-0 win over Pass Christian. Shabazz scored two TDs and intercepted a pass. (Bay Junior High School Player of the Week Award is sponsored by John McDonald Realty.)

Bay High Players of Week

Adrian Whavers, #15, left, was selected by the Bay High Athletic Club as Offensive Player of the Week for the week of September 2-6. He was the leading rusher in Friday night's game against Pass Christian. Jeff Hopgood, #75, right, was chosen Defensive Player of the Week. He netted 11 tackles, two sacks and one fumble recovery Friday. (Bay High School Player of the Week award is sponsored by John McDonald Realty.)

Wildcats preparing for East Mississippi Lions

Pearl River College's 9-0 victory over the Jones Bobcats this past week in Laurel was just what the doctor ordered.

Not only was the contest a rival game and a South Division contest, it was Willie Coats' first victory as the head master of the Wildcats.

"As a new coach it was an important win because I think the players now have confidence in themselves and our coaching staff," said Coats. "When you are trying to build a team it is important that the players believe in you and what you are doing."

Coach Coats said his team played well enough to win against the Bobcats.

"It was a rough and tough game and the victory can be attributed to a team effort. They (our players) deserved to win," he said.

The Wildcat coach said he sees improvement and that is the major objective. "We don't want to back up," said Coats. "Our goal is to get better each week."

Coats said the offensive line did a good job and the Wildcat defense was impressive.

This week the Wildcats will take on the 0-2 East Mississippi Lions. The Lions opened with an 18-0 loss to Jones and then were dropped 24-12 by Itawamba last week.

"The Lions are much better than their record indicates," said Coats. "They have good defensive backs and a lot of balance."

The Wildcats have won 24, lost nine and tied two over the years against East Mississippi. Last year, PRC took a hard-fought 12-7 decision at Scooba.

In 1985 East Mississippi won 25-24. PRC took the 1984 game 14-6 and East Mississippi recorded a 11-8 win in 1983. PRC won 13-10 in 1982.

"We can't afford to let up," said Coats. "I'm telling you the Lions are going to be a good football team this year."

Coats said the state was well balanced this year. "Anyone can beat anyone on a given day," said Coats. "The only exceptions may be that Northwest is the strongest and Coahoma is the weakest. All others are about even."

Injury-wise the Wildcats will again be without the services of starting fullback Stacy Bullock, however, everyone else should be ready.

Stanislaus prepares to face Bay High School Friday night

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will travel across town Friday for the annual encounter with the Tigers of Bay High.

Stanislaus is fresh from an upset victory over Gulfport's Admirals in Milner Stadium.

Rock head coach Ken Lyons reports his squad came out the Gulfport game with minor bruises, and it appears his team will be full strength for Bay High Friday night.

The secret is out that Stanislaus will be running the Slant-formation this season, and it proved successful last week.

The only area Lyons was disappointed in was the team's shortage of a ground attack against the Admirals.

Lyons said, "We showed an overall improvement over the loss a week before to Ocean Springs in a jamboree game. Our passing was our strong point, as line coach Tim Burns did a fine job. Actually, our line played very good defensively and offensively. Larry Ramsey, defensive coordinator, disrupted their (Gulfport's) plans and did a fine job, too."

Stanislaus still has to do some work on their ground attack, Lyons indicated.

"Our offense kept them guessing, especially with our passing attack," Lyons said.

The biggest surprise player on the Rock-A-Chaw squad is Jeremiah Fuhrer, who caught two of quarterback Bill Dreher's passes for touchdowns in the second half, according to Lyons.

A help to the success of the Rocks this season appears to be the performance of several young players who came of age, Lyons said, filling in slots from last year's graduation.

Stanislaus players who play both offense and defense include Mike Quinlan, Mike Lee and Trent Terrell.

The practice last week were the 'scout squad scrimmages' prior to a game, Lyons said he had seen. (The squad is composed of second and third string team members who run the plays of the opponents.)

Lyons indicated that Bay High will be ready for the Rocks and said he will be busy this week preparing his team for a hard game.

The game will be played in J. D. McCulloch Stadium with kickoff scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Tigers host Rocks

BY RANDY PONDER

St. Stanislaus might just as well forget about watching the game film from Bay High's 0-6 opening loss against Pass Christian last week.

Coach Rocky Gaudin and staff have made some adjustments as the Tigers prepare to host the rival Rock-A-Chaws Friday night in J. D. McCulloch Stadium.

Without being too specific—who knows who might be reading this—look for more combination blocking and less man coverage.

Sophomore Sam Shepard will probably get a chance to quarterback during the game. Starting QB Trellis Haynes would likely switch to safety, a position he knows well.

The Tigers are looking for another big game from defensive player of the week, Jeff Hoppood. The six-foot, five-inch 230-pound guard, linebacker had 11 tackles, two sacks and a fumble recovery against the Pass. Hoppood, another sophomore, is described as quick footed, aggressive and has a good attitude.

"He's a good one," Gaudin stated. "Jeff has the potential to be an outstanding lineman. He's as good as any I've ever known. He goes full speed every down."

Bay High will try to establish the ground game. If they can accomplish this, it will take pressure off the passing game.

"When you can run the ball, the defense has to think run first and pass second," Gaudin explained.

In the Pass Christian contest, everyone knew the Tigers had to pass, allowing the defense to blitz and sack the quarterback with an annoying regularity.

"What can I say about St. Stanislaus?" Gaudin asked. "They beat Gulfport! I give coach Lyons and his staff a lot of credit. They are where we want to be. A solid program that can compete with anyone."

Gaudin said that the Rocks had excellent skill people. "They are good on both sides of the ball."

"They execute well. The defensive line is very quick and strong. They are aggressive and have a very good kicking game."

Hancock travels to Harrison Cen.

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Hancock High School's Hawks will be stepping onto the Harrison Central playing field Friday with the same game plan as last week, reported coach Irvin Favre.

"We must try to eliminate as many mistakes as possible."

"Harrison Central is another 5A school. We don't know a heck of a lot about their ability this year, since they played last week in a downpour of rain."

"You couldn't get a true indication under those conditions."

"We do know that we will need to contain their quarterback (Stephen Moore) on options and keeps."

"We didn't do that last year, and he gave us fits."

"Well, he's back again."

Favre said after reviewing the film from last week's season opener against George County, quite a few mistakes were noted.

"I attribute that to inexperience in a number of positions," Favre added.

"Basically we have some strong positions, players that I consider skilled people."

"They did a good enough job last week, but we have to get better in our defensive secondary and pass throws."

Favre stated Hancock and Harrison Central played close games for the past two years.

"Last year Harrison Central beat us by two points and the year before we beat them."

Favre said at this time he did not anticipate any change in the starting positions.

"If there is a change or two it will be done later in the week."

Overall Favre stressed the necessity for the Hawk's players to learn from their mistakes, and not repeat them.

"We have to be a better football team then we were last week."

HHS and Harrison Central kick off at 7:30 p.m.

TIME OUT

The Pass Christian VFW Post 5931 dart teams, the Vets and Stars & Stripes, switched off with wins and losses these past two weeks.

Last Thursday, the Vets defeated the Slammers from Bayou Oaks Lounge 10-8, and the Stars & Stripes lost to the Fighting Irish from T.O.'s Lounge in Gulfport 2-16.

Top scores of the night were split with Vets' members Buck Fayard claiming both the men's high at 121 and the men's high out at 68, while Slammer member Alice Cherry took both the ladies' high score with 120 and the ladies' high out with 32.

Stars & Stripes member Mel Garriga took the men's high score with 140 and Fighting Irish member Greg Hewes scored 76 for the men's high out.

The games of Thursday, Aug. 29, flipped the wins and losses.

The Vets lost to the Flaming Stars from the Rebel Lounge in Gulfport 12-6, as the Star & Stripes won 18-0 by forfeiture when the Push Overs failed to show up at the Workmen's Lounge in Gulfport.

Tonight's games begin at 7:30 p.m.

The Vets play the Knights from the Round Table Lounge while Stars & Stripes take on Butch's Babes from Zapata's in Gulfport.

The Pass Christian Sea Witch Lounge dart teams brought home one victory while handing over another.

At K's Lounge in Gulfport, the Copper League Pirates extinguished the fire of the Golden Dragons when they defeated them 15-3 last Thursday.

The Pirates claimed top scores for the night: men's high, Pat Johnston, 125; men's high out, Jeff Doukas, 56; and Sissy Brattain with both women's high, 95, and women's high out, 20.

The Sea Nettles, the second Copper League team from the Pass Christian establishment, were overcome by the Alibis from the Alibi Lounge in Long Beach, losing 14-4.

Alibi member Chuck Bass claimed the men's high with 112.

Sea Nettle players took the other high scores with the men's high out, Terry Bean, 54; and both the women's high, 79, and the women's high out, 41, went to Mary Penton.

Tonight the Pirates confront Gulfport's Bad Company from the Crystal Rose Lounge at the Sea Witch Lounge.

The Sea Nettles will travel to Daffy's on the River in Gulfport to combat Daffy's I.

Games begin at 7:30 p.m.

The Sea Witch Lounge is looking for newcomers to play team darts. Anyone interested should attend the team practices on Tuesdays at 7:30 at the Lounge in Pass Christian.

USM Alumni Association is sponsoring a bus trip to send USM fans from the Coast to Auburn, Ala., for the USM-Auburn game on Saturday, Oct. 5.

The USM Golden Eagle Road Trip to Auburn will leave the Edgewater Mall south parking lot between Gayfer's and US 90 at 6:30 a.m.

The bus will arrive at the Cracker Barrel Restaurant in Montgomery, Ala., for lunch (not included in price of trip). The bus will arrive in Auburn at 1 p.m. for the game. The bus will leave Auburn at 5 p.m. and arrive back in Biloxi at 10 p.m.

The trip costs $30 per person for round-trip ticket only, $48 per person for round-trip ticket and game ticket. The trip is limited to the first 44 people to sign up and send in payment.

Prices include snacks and refreshments on the bus—if the bus does not sell out, the money will be refunded.

To sign up send checks to Billy Walker, 1980 Beach Blvd., Biloxi, MS, 39531.

Ronald Storey

Kiln resident competes in AAU Junior Olympics

Ronald Storey, a member of Gulf Coast Karate Club of Waveland, competed in the July-August Amateur Athletic Union Junior Olympics and placed seventh in his division. Storey has worked his way through various tournaments and training to achieve this goal, taking first in fighting in his division in the All South Karate Championship tournament, the Southern Regional AAU tour-namment and first in form at the National AAU tournament.

Storey is a relative newcomer to karate having participated in other sports. He thinks karate is an individual sport in a team environment. He enjoys the karate year round and has noted that since karate training his reflexes are faster and he is more coordinated.

Storey qualified for the junior olympics last year but was unable to attend. With the help of local sponsors he was able to compete this year.

Having represented Mississippi in the junior olympic games he carried the state flag during the opening ceremony.

Bruce Jenner, an olympic gold medal winner in the decathlon, was present and gave the opening speech.

Storey competed in fighting (kumite) and forms (kata) on two days against 5,000 competitors.

Storey plans to continue training and compete again next year.

Locals Ray Torrence, brown belt and Brandon Weaver, green belt also competed in the junior olympic event.

BMR to host public meeting on oyster regulations

The Bureau of Marine Resources is urging people with an interest in oysters, oystering and the oyster industry to attend a public meeting this week.

The purpose of the meetings is to discuss proposed changes in state oyster regulations and the upcoming oyster season.

"We're looking for input from all areas, from oyster fishing to oyster processing," said John Cirino, BMR shellfish program coordinator. "We're even looking for comments from people who just enjoy eating oysters."

The meeting will be Thursday, Sept. 12 in Gulfport's West Side Community Center on East U.S. 90 at 7 p.m.

Freshman tailback James Holloway of Prentiss scored one touchdown and ran for 96 yards on 12 tries, while sophomore Doug Johnson netted 78 yards on 18 attempts against the Bobcats.

Lateef Travis, Ray Wilson and Larry Whigham all came away with interceptions. The PRC defense, after two games, has allowed just 171 yards rushing and 234 yards through the air.

In other games this past week, Co-Lin beat East Central 3-0, Northeast upended Gulf Coast 28-14, Northwest bombed Holmes 34-6, and Hinds beat Southwest 31-14.

NINE DAYS FOR CHANGING WORLD HISTORY

On August 25, 1991, a message was delivered from Heaven to every individual on Earth. The message, given by the Virgin Mary, Mother of Jesus, was conveyed to a young woman in Medjugorje, Yugoslavia. Millions of people have been travelling to Medjugorje for the past ten years to experience the daily supernatural happenings from God.

Mary, who identifies herself as "Queen of Peace," asks all the world for nine days of renunciation to bring to fulfillment secrets which had begun in Fatima, Portugal when she appeared to three children in 1917. These nine days will have global consequences and its significance cannot be overestimated.

The August 25, 1991 message from the Virgin Mary:

Dear Children,

Today also I invite you to prayer, now as never before when my plan has begun to be realized. Satan is strong and wants to sweep away plans of peace and joy and make you think that my son is not strong in His decisions. Therefore, I call all of you, dear children, to pray and fast still more firmly. I invite you to renunciation for nine days so that with your help everything I wanted to realize through the secrets I began in Fatima may be fulfilled. I call you, dear children, to grasp the importance of my coming and the seriousness of the situation. I want to save all souls and present them to God. Therefore, let us pray that everything I have begun be fully realized. Thank you for having responded to my call.

Never before in history have individuals had so much ability to alter the whole world. We are asking each person, each prayer group, and each church to join in communion with others around the world in dedicating the nine days between Friday, September 13 and Saturday, September 21, 1991 to renunciation. Some people will fast on bread and water for these nine days, some will renounce (things of the world, pleasures, etc.) in other ways of their choosing, and all will fervently pray in answer to Our Lady's message. It is felt that this message is inviting us to push ourselves into renunciation for a period of nine days to change the history of the world.

Golden Eagles face Pittsburgh Sept. 14

After opening the 1991 season at home against Delta State, Southern Mississippi's Golden Eagles hit the road for the first of seven road games Saturday at Pittsburgh. The 12:30 p.m. kickoff marks the first-ever meeting between the Golden Eagles and Panthers.

The Delta State game marks the regular season and home debut for Golden Eagle Head Coach Jeff Bower. Bower's first game as USM head coach was in the 1990 All-American Bowl in Birmingham, Ala. against N.C. State. The Wolfpack defeated the Golden Eagles 31-27.

The USM offense returns seven starters from last year's 8-4 squad. The quarterback position continues to be a key as redshirt freshmen Tommy Waters and Honore Britton battle for playing time.

Waters and Britton, after entering pre-season drills battling for the backup position to Eric Estes, were thrust into the spotlight when Estes suffered a career ending concussion just two weeks prior to the season opener against Delta State. Waters started the DSU game.

Tony Smith will once again provide excitement both in the backfield and on special teams. The senior tailback led USM in rushing last season with 657 yards.

Smith ranked ninth in the nation in punt returns in 1991 averaging 13.3 yards per return and returned two punts for touchdowns. The Vicksburg native also returned 11 kickoffs for a 21 yard average in 1990.

Seven starters return on defense where USM ranked fifth in the nation in scoring defense allowing just over 12 points per game.

The Golden Eagles finished the 1991 season ranked 25th in the nation in total defense allowing opponents 299 yards per game in total offense.

Linebackers Arnie Williams and Rod Lynch anchor the defense. Williams led USM in 1990 with 135 tackles while Lynch recorded 106 including five tackles for losses.

The defensive end position is strong and is once again led by junior James Singleton and senior Gerald Blake. Singleton recorded 47 tackles and two sacks in 1991 while Blake had 39 tackles and four sacks. Senior Rod Reed is also expected to provide support. Reed was credited with 28 tackles and two fumble recoveries in 1990.

Pittsburgh, which opened the 1991 season at West Virginia, is attempting to bounce back from a disappointing 3-7-1 1990 season. Paul Hackett begins his second full year at Pitt and will have 10 starters returning on offense and five on defense.

Pitt's offense is directed by junior Alex Van Pelt. Van Pelt has started every game of his two year career with the Panthers and is being touted as an All-American candidate. In his two years at Pitt, Van Pelt has completed 393 of 698 passes for 5,493 yards and 31 touchdowns.

The Panther defense is anchored by junior defensive end Keith Hamilton. The 6-7, 280-lb. Hamilton has 18.5 career sacks and 98 tackles in his career. Hamilton was named The Sporting News Defensive Freshman of the Year in 1989 and is a pre-season first-team All-American.

USM will return following the Pittsburgh game and enjoy an open date before hosting Colorado State on September 21 at 4. After Colorado State the Golden Eagles play six of their remaining eight regular season games on the road.

Tickets are available for the Colorado State game and the two remaining home games October 19 versus Tulane and November 9 against East Carolina. Single game tickets may be purchased at the USM ticket office in Reed Green Coliseum or by phone at 601-266-5418 or 1-800-844-TICK.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

It's time to go fishin' y'all. It was a cool, lazy September afternoon and this turtle was relishing the enjoyment of replaying the day's catch of two giant blue fin tuna sharks and one legal size thing-a-ma-bob. The other members of the day's fishing party launched into some vigorous accounts of the humongous green-spotted wangbats that got away.

You guessed it—we were all sitting under the "fishing tale oak" at LaFrance's fish camp. For those of you who have not experienced the pleasure and just good comradeship that this tree offers, I can only say, "Take off like a herd of turtles" toward Ansley and experience this pleasure firsthand.

"The 'fishing oak' can accommodate at least 24 people under its spacious branches. There are benches, tables and chairs and of course the outdoor air conditioning is free.

It's a good think the outdoor air conditioning is free as there seems to be an excess of "hot air" flowing under the "fishing oak." Thank goodness the tree cannot talk; the tales of the ones that got away would be incredible.

Anyway, I was able to talk to quite a few fishermen down at LaFrance's this week (away from the fishing oak) and the reports are all good. The cooler weather has made the fish hungry.

According to Toxie Hall, it is almost time for the world series, and this means that the croakers start showing up in the Pearl River area. Sure enough, the croakers are starting to show up just about the river bridge.

They are running about one-half pound. The best bait is the way to Three Oaks Bayou, but the bay is the best producer. The best bait is the white grub or the white Mr. Twister. Some people are having success with cachaos under a cork.

A couple of boats came in with a few 14-inch trout and I did see one 15-inch trout. The 14-inch trout were caught around Half Moon Island, and the 15-inch was caught out by Free Mason Island.

reported to be dead shrimp fished on the bottom.

The flat fish are all over Heron Bay, and quite a few are being caught that are running over 4 pounds. The biggest catches are being made, and the best place to fish is the shoreline of the bay.

Returning fishermen report that a few founders are being caught along the shoreline all

All boats report catching a bunch of reds in the 16- to 18-inch range, but no reports of 22-inch reds anywhere.

Couple of last things about LaFrance's Fish Camp for those who might want to try this area. They open at 6 a.m. weekdays and 5:30 a.m. on weekends.

They report that they have plenty of live and dead bait. They have six boats that they

I have loaded and arranged in the 16-foot skiff, tackle, spotlight, landing net and ice chest.

The 20 horsepower motor starts on the first crank, and I idle out to the bayou, respecting other boats a mooring. There is not a sign of life. The light from docks and some businesses further down the bayou allow me to run a quarter throttle.

Leaving the mouth of the bayou, I bear right and move away into open water.

It is far dark. I slow to idle speed moving in and out of light fog banks, periodically flashing the spotlight on the shoreline to keep my bearings. Buoy lights to my left help.

There is no moon, but the sky is alive with stars. Occasionally one seems to streak to nowhere.

Above the sound of the outboard you can hear the splash of fish. Although there is a light breeze from somewhere, the water is calm. A quick flash of the spotlight reveals the water to be slick and clear. At this rate, I know it will be 30 minutes before I reach Long Point. Time moves rapidly. I shine the spotlight on the shore to reveal familiar characteristics.

I kill the engine and just sit. It is still dark, and the night sky still beautiful.

The sounds on the water are more definite now.

A faint light on the horizon indicates daybreak. Over the side goes the silver spoon as I move off zig-zagging along the shoreline.

Three bumps and contact, a not so very large speck. It is returned to the water.

Another strike, a Spanish mackerel of sufficient size goes into the chest. Yet another, this one smaller, goes back to where it came from.

The horizon is now emitting enough light to see in either direction. To the south, not more than two blocks away, is another boat. Surprise. I thought I had been alone all this time. It sits 300 feet offshore. Another fisherman?

Now the mackerel are easy to spot as they strike the enormous school of minnows.

Three more hookups have been released and I move to the bank to stop and do some casting for specks, red, or flounder.

A smaller flounder is released, a larger one kept. Four small specks and a rat red returned to the water. I wonder where the larger fish might be.

The sun is an eight up now, and I can see the telltale cork line running from shore to the other boat.

I move a little closer as they start to haul in the net. I can guess where the larger fish have gone, and probably some of the ones I released.

None of the netted fish are being removed as the monofilament is pulled aboard the un-numbered craft. They will certainly all be dead by the time they are collected.

I saw more fish in that gill net than I have caught, kept and released all summer.

I glance to the north to see another boat setting its net. I'm in the middle.

No more fishing today!

THE FREEDOM THAT OUR LAWS ENSURE MUST BE PROTECTED

We are fortunate that, due to the wisdom of our founding fathers, we live under the protection of a set of laws that safeguard our freedom; where each level of government has its powers and limitations clearly defined. However, we must never forget that freedom is a fragile thing; often under attack from within as well as from without, by those whose misguided beliefs would make use of its very provisions to destroy it. Throughout our history we have all too frequently had to defend our principles of liberty and democracy on the various battlefields of the world, and there seems to be no end to the process. Let us attend our House of Worship and pray that all people may one day live under a system of God-given freedom like the one that has always blessed our land.

It is my duty to my country to support its Constitution, and to defend it against all enemies.
